Lose the Rules

Today we're going to practice activity known as Lose the Rules. In this activity, we will use our syllabboards from our phonics kit.

We are going to learn how to read long and big words in the English language.

In order to read long words in English, we can look for its parts or syllables. For example, this word is picnic. If we separate, the word picnic.

We can see that it has two closed syllables and we can read its parts before putting them together. Pic.. nic, picnic.

In order to know how to separate the parts of long words in English, we have to first look at the vowels. Let's look at another word in English.

How many vowels do you see in this word? Are they together or apart?

Great job! They are apart. There are two vowels in this word, so I'm going to need two syllabboards. Next, I'm going to write one vowel on each board.

After that, I'm going to bring down the consonant letters that are left in the word.

Now I'm ready to read each part.

Sun.. set...Sunset. Excellent job. Let's try one more with an even longer word in English.

How many vowels do you see in this word? Are they together or apart?

Wonderful job. They are a part.

There are three vowels in this word, so I will need three syllabboards.

Next, I'm going to write each vowel on each board.

After that, I'm ready to bring down the consonant letters that are left in the word.

Fan...tas...tic.. Fantastic!

You read the word fantastic! Great job. I can see that fantastic has three closed syllables and I read each part correctly..

Using our syllabboards can help us when we read new and longer words in the English language.
